

Allegro IS A TECH ENABLED STUDIO™

School of dance & music

ASDM is prepared to offer live online classes with clear video and audio for students. We'll be able to seamlessly change to the online platform should we need to make studio wide adjustments due to the virus.

We know that students who are registered for in person classes may need to stay home for a variety of reasons. Students can maintain continuity by taking class online via our online studio. This will benefit students through continued connection with their teacher and friends, as well as in the progression of their technique.

Classes are easily accessible for families who choose to participate in the season from home. Live online classes will coordinate with the live in person classes. We've upgraded our equipment for a seamless, clear experience! Parents of our youngest dancers will be able to watch their child dancing in the studio through our new technology!

In this ever-changing world, there's one thing you can be sure of - dance classes and music lessons at Allegro will always be consistent.

We're excited to bring dance classes and music lessons to students everywhere in the 2020-2021 season!
